SYNOPSIS

Marion is a fifty-year-old French woman who has always lived with her mother. Born with an obsessive-compulsive disorder (O.C.D), society's codes escape her. Following the death of her mother, she pursues her dream of going to America. In Utah, amid the immensity, beauty and emptiness, she bumps into the enigmatic Rob, who also rides on the edge of society with his own identity at stake. Together they embark on a hilarious and life-changing journey to discover hope, in a liberal allowance of time.

DIRECTOR

Trained at the French National Conservatory, then with Dominique Leverd, to later attend the Stella Adler Academy of Acting in Los Angeles, Marie-Hélène Roux has worked for several years on independent film production in Hollywood. Returning to France, in August 2012, after 15 years in LA, she made her directorial debut with A Deported Life (25 minutes). In 2014, she wrote and directed Shortage of Children (42 minutes), with Marie Bunel and Vincent Winterhalter, a film inspired by true historical events during the 60's in France, known as "Les Réunionnais de la Creuse". Shortage of Children obtained the support of the French Deputy from Reunion Ericka Bareigts and received an outstanding theatrical release on May 20th, 2015. Links Of Life shot in Utah (U.S.A) in late 2015, is her first feature film.
